European star becomes first international and first two-handed player to win PBA World Championship

LAS VEGAS – Finland's Osku Palermaa became the first international player, and the first two-handed bowler, to win the Professional Bowlers Association World Championship when he defeated Ryan Shafer of Horseheads, N.Y., 245, 245, in the 2011-12 season's first major championship.

Palermaa, who had battled flu-like symptoms for two months leading into the World Championship, was feeling much better after winning television appearances in the Round of 36 for the end-of-season PBA Tournament of Champions, aired Sunday on ESPN.

two-handed player Jason Belmonte of Australia and top qualifier Sean Rash of Montgomery, Ill., knocked out of contention.

The 28-year-old Finn started the title match in South Point Casino and Hotel's exhibition hall with two 7-10 splits, but that was his only open frame. Shafer threw only three strikes – two of them for his only double – but his failure to convert the 3-6-10 spare in the seventh frame proved fatal, shifting the match to Palermaa's favor. Strikes in the ninth and 10th frame secured the victory for Palermaa, and he had the pocket, but to see all four shots to finish with a 222. Palermaa threw three strikes in the seventh frame proved fatal. Rash dominated the game with a 245, Shafer scored a 236, and Palermaa and Belt-monte rolled to a 203, forcing an 18th frame, which would see who would advance and who would be eliminated. In the roll-off, Belmonte stood in first place, in all leaving the 2-4-5-8 "bucket." Wanting only seven pins, Pal-ermaa struck to move on. "All you can do is throw a good shot and you get what you get," Palermaa said. "Seeing Jason leave a bucket helped. But I bowed a good game. It is what it is." In the second elimination game, Shafer, a 25-year PBA Tour veteran, struck on his last four shots to finish with a 222. Palermaa threw three strikes in the 10th for a 217. Rash, who dominated the World Champions-hip qualifying rounds, saw his title hopes collapse when he left a 7-10 in the ninth frame, finishing with a 195. The finals were conducted on the PBA's Scorpion lane con-tinuing to win all the qualifying lead in the field.

The anticipated showdown between Palermaa and Belt- monte, the World's premier two-handed players, created some excitement, but not in the way most observers ex-pected. Rash dominated the first elimination game with a 245, Shafer scored a 236, and Palermaa and Belt- monte rolled to a 203, forcing a 19th frame to see who would advance and who would be eliminated. In the roll-off, Belmonte stood in first place, in all leaving the 2-4-5-8 "bucket." Wanting only seven pins, Pal-ermaa struck to move on. "All you can do is throw a good shot and you get what you get," Palermaa said. "Seeing Jason leave a bucket helped. But I bowed a good game. It is what it is." In the second elimination game, Shafer, a 25-year PBA Tour veteran, struck on his last four shots to finish with a 222. Palermaa threw three strikes in the 10th for a 217. Rash, who dominated the World Champions-hip qualifying rounds, saw his title hopes collapse when he left a 7-10 in the ninth frame, finishing with a 195. The finals were conducted on the PBA's Scorpion lane con-tinuing to win all the qualifying lead in the field.

Rash will fulfill the "wish" of 16-year-old Benjamin Doyle of Casper, Wyo., providing the young cancer victim with a personal visit and a bowling lesson during the Alka-Seltzer Plus Liquid Gels USBC Mas-ters. Rash will meet with Doyle, who is suffering from brain cancer, at noon on Saturday, Jan. 28, at Strike Zone inside Sam's Town Hotel/Casino in Henderson, Nev., in response to a request from the Make A Wish Foundation. Doyle and his family also will be invited to attend the live ESPN cov-erage of the USBC Masters finals on Sunday at 9:30 a.m. PT as guests of the PBA and the USBC.

Snyder's 745/298 Leads Ebonite
by Aimee Gomez

DOWNEY—Gold Coast Hotel remains in first for the round, as well as overall, after taking four wins from Sysco. Super-star Andrea Snyder lead the league with 298-226-211/745 and helped her Gold Coast team remain on top. Fellow lefty, Mike Cammarata, also added a 228-210-205/643. Deconron Booker 235-206-625 and Paul Barraco 214-609 failed to get enough help for more than the second game win.

Rick Easley 224-225-787; Kurt Arakaki 245-218-759; and Mark Curtis 233-235-631 led Kegel to four games over Linder Insurance’s Brandon Grant 231-204-617.

Tifco Industries had a rematch with Tri-Star Vending, and this week, managed to get the elusive final point, as they swept, using Brandon Golden’s 224-231-633 set.

ABTA also enjoyed a sweep, over Threadworks. Ron Peter 213-246-247-706; Matt Garcia 243-208-245-696; Mike Villarreal 208-257-213-697 bowled really well. Paul Velez 203-238-234-684, Jeff Seenholtz 202-266-654 and Eric Snow 229-210-614 scored also, but only got close the third game.

Clyde’s Video Game used David Bartlett 228-247-212-687 and Ramiro Garcia 202-244-625 to win three from Brylaw Accounting’s Billy Myers Jr. 216-233-626 and Tony Burrill 234-215-608.

Erickson Foods took four from Pro Approach thanks to Sean Lemon 204-243-621 and some teamwork, over Sherman Joseph 214-214-608.

Take care and see you all next week.

BWAA Launches Virtual Youth Challenge Tournament

The Bowling Writers Association of America (BWAA) is very proud to launch a new event for youth bowlers, the Virtual Youth Challenge Tournament.

By writing the rules and putting this all together, we are very excited about the long term potential of this event. The Virtual Youth Challenge is a simple “Highest Over Average” event with a handicap of 90% from the highest average entered each week in each division. One of every five entries each week in each division will earn scholarship awards that will be deposited in their SMART account within 30 days.

The Virtual Youth Challenge is designed to encourage young bowlers to participate in league bowling, and it gives them an extra incentive to improve their skills to earn scholarship awards for the very best. The scholarships will help fund their college education; they will also encourage more young people to continue bowling into adulthood.

The Virtual Youth Challenge is in its first year, but we are very pleased with the response and interest in the event. We are very proud to launch this new event for youth bowlers," said BWAA President Jim Goodwin.

For complete rules and information, visit the website www.VirtualYouthChallenge.com

The Bowling Writers Association of America (BWAA) is the world’s most prominent bowling media and communications organization. Since 1934, BWAA has been a primary industry source for bowling news and information at www.bowlingwriters.com, or look for new and information at www.bowlingwriters.com.

A Faithful Bowler Joins The “Big League”

by Pat Helwig

SAN DIEGO — SHIRLEY O. SCHMARDEL, fondly and preferably known as SOS, passed away January 9, 2012 at a hospice in San Diego, CA. She was 91 years of age. Family, friends, and members of her extended bowling family gathered to pay her homage at Our Lady of Sacred Heart services held on January 17, 2012 in San Diego. SOS was a particular favorite of Our Lady for many decades. Her faith was a very important part of her daily life.

The 91 years of life for SOS are filled with success stories. It all began in Minnesota on February 14, 1920 when she opened her eyes, greeting her parents as their special Valentine. Her early childhood activities included bowling. She rolled her first bowling ball at the age of five years and loved it. From that day forward bowling was her game.

During the years that passed SOS moved to San Diego, CA, and the active life of a Navy wife, mother, and bowler. The local leagues and tournaments provided competition and the means to improve her game. As her competitive status grew she joined the California State and National Women’s Bowling Associations and 600 clubs. She became a faithful player of all their tournaments enjoying the comradery as well as the competition.

She retired from the game of bowling SOS became interested in the end business of bowling. Her interest in the work of the San Diego women’s bowling association soon earned her a place in the business end of bowling. Her interest in the work of the bowling association was honored with her induction into the San Diego bowling association.

SOS continued to pursue her bowling interests with the parliamentarian work of the bowling association. Her faith was a very important part of her daily life.

SOS was a parishioner at Our Lady of Sacred Heart in San Diego. She was a faithful bowler and has earned her place in the “Big League”. She was presented with a bouquet of flowers, a metal plaque for her 55 years of tournament bowling. Each time Texas SOS was presented with a bouquet of flowers, a metal plaque or a 55 year presentation her newly earned accomplishment presided as parliamentarian.

Convention, Bowling Writers Meeting and Awards, Bowling Producers Meeting, etc. Local, in Del Mar, smoked the CAA bowlers for $50,000 (!) dollars. The count was official. The U.S. Women's Open set a world record. The number of women who dominated bowling in the Cowboy Stadium. Leanne Hulsenberg won. National, in Del Mar, smoked the CAA bowlers. WEEK THIRTY: Pauly Vadis, Leanne Hulsenberg, Mark Deklen and the City of San Diego. Women’s Open.’ The women are seeking sponsors and donations. Will it go down on the trophy as this year’s winner. Orange County will host the 2012 U.S.B.C. National Women’s Open. What is USBC or the BPAA doing about the lane conditions, bowls, balls, etc? We know the name, Patrick Allen? I respectfully disagree. There are a few things I’d like to see happen. I’ll be the first to express frustration at the current state of bowling. I read, “Seeking a cure for Bowling’s ills.” No one is selling bowling. I’m sure we can do it best! Owner of the name "Women's Bowling Alliance". No one is selling bowling. I’m sure we can do it best! Owner of the name "Women's Bowling Alliance". 300 games so far is 237. Not bad! Ready to serve up what you scratch bowlers asked for. Support it and it will be worth your money. Tony Rodriguez, Jr. tops Marv Sarabia, 229-214. Getting business and increasing leagues is a matter of using your imagination.
